Council Authorizes $10,000 In Road Repair And Construction; Land Offered For New Street

The borough council at it regular May meeting at the fire engine house Monday night approved recommendations of the highway committee for new construction and road repair work this summer, and authorized the committee to spend up to $10,000 on the program.

Following a recent inspection of the streets by members of the council, the following resurfacing work was recommended by the committee:

East Middle street to Fourth street; Third street, East Middle street to Race Horse alley; an alley south of York street; Fourth street from Water street to Broadway; East Lincoln avenue; East Broadway extended; an alley north of Broadway; West Broadway; an alley north of East Lincoln; Barlow street; Stratton street, from Lincoln avenue to Wall street; East Water street; Railroad street, from Carlisle to North Washington street; an alley south of Springs avenue; West High street; Breckenridge street, from Baltimore to Franklin street; an alley south of South street; Washington street, north and south, and an alley south of York street between Fifth and Sixth streets.

Construction Work

Construction work approved by council includes Red Patch avenue, the south end of Hillcrest place and an alley at the rear of Hillcrest place.

The highway committee was authorized to advertise for bids on a new dump truck, of the "V" license type, for hauling stone from the Bethlehem quarries for use on borough streets. Borough Engineer LeRoy H. Winebrenner reported that a 1940 Diamond-T truck used to haul stone, while still serviceable for use in the borough, is "getting old" for shuttling back and forth for stone, and other trucks owned by the borough are not suitable. One of them, a 1940 International, will be used in the mosquito elimination work this summer.

To Repair Shed

The highway committee was also authorized to have a small tractor overhauled. Winebrenner said it was "pumping oil" badly. Funds received from renting it out will pay for the overhauling, he said. The committee was given authority to have doors placed in the north end of the borough shed so that equipment can be moved in and out more easily. The property committee was authorized to negotiate for the removal of a tower on the garage, the borough to re-roof the building after its removal.

A request from Herbert Hamme to have a street ordained at the rear of his property on West Middle street near Ridge avenue was referred to a special committee com-

NEED FUNDS TO BUY MORE LAND FOR CEMETERY, LEGION IS TOLD

The status of government efforts to purchase the lot adjoining the Gettysburg National Cemetery remains as it was a year ago, according to a letter read Monday evening at the regular meeting of the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion held in the post home on Baltimore street.

Thomas J. Allen, regional director of the National Park Service of the U. S. Department of the Interior, wrote the local post, in response to a query, that "the present status of land acquisition adjacent to the Gettysburg National Cemetery remains similar to that which existed at the time of the inquiry of your organization on February 7, 1950. The greatest need is a sufficiency of funds to serve as a basis for negotiation of an option to purchase the needed lands."

$5,000 Not Enough

Allen said that the Interior department in its deficiency appropriation request in 1949 asked for the funds. "A deficiency appropriation was later granted through the enactment of Public Law 119, 81st Congress, but only in the amount of $5,000. Therefore no action could be taken toward land acquisition

LIONS VOTE $100 FOR INFORMATION BOOTH IN SQUARE

Gettysburg Lions Monday evening voted $100 from their charity fund for use of the Retail Merchants' association on its project to erect an information booth in Lincoln Square. The Lions tied to their gift the urgent recommendation that provision be made to man the booth regularly.

The Lions also voted $50 to the Adams County Home Auxiliary's projector fund but tabled for the present a request for a donation for bleachers for the Gettysburg Softball association. The bleacher fund donation was tabled on recommendation of the club's finance committee "until more definite plans have been formulated for the development of the softball facilities."

The club also voted to spend $60 — from its general fund — for a life-size, papier-mache lion to be used on club floats in street parades.

Reject Float Plan

The Lions voted against a suggestion made at a regional meeting here several weeks ago that Adams county Lions spend about $1,000 for a large "apple" float in the boardwalk parade for the International Lions convention at Atlantic City in June. The unsolved question of where the $1,000 was to come from and reports from Fairfield and Upper Adams Lions that those clubs also had rejected the idea influenced the vote.

President Radford H. Lippy presided at the meeting with 101 Lions and guests in attendance. A letter of thanks was read from Hoffman orphanage for the movies and refreshments given the 65 youngsters there by clubmen on April 27 and past President Milton R. Remmel, a patient in the Warner hospital for the last 10 days, was reported now "out of danger."

Guest speaker for the meeting was the Rev. J. O. Fountain, for the last three years pastor of the A.M.E. Zion church of Gettysburg. He told of problems facing his congregation that is now engaged in making improvements to the church basement

59 YEARS FOR DOCTOR STEWART

On Sunday, Dr. Henry Stewart, who is now staff secretary and records committee chairman at the Warner hospital, noted the 59th anniversary of his graduation from the medical department of the University of Pennsylvania.

His 59 years in the medical profession are exceeded by only one other person's record. Dr. T. C. Miller, late of Abbottstown, had a record of 60 years extending from 1889 to 1949.

County medical history records show that Dr. Stewart's record has been twice equalled—by the late Dr. C. E. Goldsborough of Hunterstown from 1854 to 1913 and Dr. John Runkel, late of Gettysburg, who practiced from 1821 to 1880. Two other men had a longer life in medicine but not all of it was spent in this county. The record of Dr. J. E. C. O'Neal had a total of 69 years but the first 19 were spent in Hanover and Baltimore. Dr. T. T. Tate, late of Gettysburg, had a record of 60 years ending in 1915 but the first 10 years were spent in the west and in army service.

History His Hobby

Dr. Stewart, who is now 82 years of age, pioneered in x-ray work in the early years of his general practice here and in 1902 assembled and constructed one of the first—if not the first—x-ray machines used in this part of the country outside of the large cities.

He has filled many public and professional offices in his long career. Besides heading various medical groups, he served two terms as Adams county coroner; for many years he was register of vital statistics here and has been a member of the Warner hospital staff from the day it was founded.

A former president of the Adams County Historical society, he has made county history his hobby and has presented many papers before the county history group of phases of the past of this section.

FARM POND IS CAUSE OF EQUITY, DAMAGE ACTION

An action in equity, in which Grover C. Chronister, New Oxford R. 1, seeks a restraining order and damages from Hugh K. and Mary J. Hamm, Hanover R. 3, because, the plaintiff alleges, a farm pond built by the Hamms adjacent to a lot owned by Chronister, has damaged the latter's land, was filed in the office of the prothonotary today by Donald M. Swope, attorney for the plaintiff.

In his complaint, Chronister alleges that the defendants are owners of a farm on the Hanover-Carlisle road two miles north of Cross Keys, adjoining his lot, and that in August, 1948, they built a farm dam, a portion of the breast of which is immediately adjacent to the southwest corner of his property.

The dam, the complaint alleges, created a two-acre pond with a maximum depth of seven and a half feet. Chronister further alleges that the dam obstructs and diverts a water course and that the flow of surface water from the defendants' lands and other lands is directed upon his land; that seepage from the pond and water from the overflow pipe also enters his land, making it flooded and useless.

In addition to seeking an order restraining the Hamms from flooding his land, Chronister is also suing for $5,000 damages.

Allied Patrols Are Hunting For Retreating Reds; Enemy Mad At Russia For Not Sending More Aid

Tokyo, May 8 (AP)—Allied troops today pushed cautiously north at both ends of the 100-mile Korean front for the second successive day.

Patrols hunted in the vacuum between these points for vanishing Red troops. Far north of the theoretical battle line, pilots reported new Communist build-ups in Red Korea.

Withdrawing and reorganizing Chinese and North Korean Reds were reported angry because they didn't get Russian tanks and planes to sinew their spring offensive.

The current limited offensive is in the hands of U.N. troops from west to east, front line dispatches gave this picture of Tuesday's skirmishing.

Engage In Mortar Duel

At the extreme west, where no action has been reported for weeks, U.N. forces on the Kimpo peninsula norwthwest of Seoul engaged in a mortar duel with Reds.

South Koreans making the western advance reached points 17 miles northwest of Seoul on the east bank of the Han river. Armored patrols fanning out from Uijongbu stabbed to points 20 miles north of Seoul.

Across the rest of the western and central sectors, A.P. Correspondent John Randolph reported, "There is no formal front line. Instead, there is a wide shelf of no-man's land of varying width. In this belt, Chinese and United Nations patrols roamed back and forth."

For the second successive day an armored column rumbled unopposed into the hub city of Chunchon, 45 miles northeast of Seoul. Patrols jabbed north into Red defenses but elsewhere found no Communists.

South Koreans fighting above the 38th Parallel battled a Communist battalion east of Inje. Northwest of this Red-held city airmen reported a "considerable build-up" of Red troops.

Fly 500 Sorties

Fifth Air Force warplanes flew 500 sorties, sometimes through heavy ground fire.

Lt. Gen. James A. Van Fleet, Eighth Army commander, visited the western front to award the U. S. Presidential Unit Citation to the heroic British Gloucestershire regiment.

Reports of Red discontent came from Allied officers on the western front. A.P. Correspondent Randolph said some U.N. officers believe there is hard feeling among Chinese and North Korean troops because they didn't get tanks and planes from the Soviet Union to support their recent ill-fated offensive.

The infantry carried the full burden of that attack, launched April 22. More than 80,000 Reds have been killed or wounded, by U.N. estimates. Monday 2,940 were reported killed or wounded.

Randolph quoted Allied officers that Red offensive preparations indicated they had expected both armored support and air cover. Roads were widened. Air fields were put into condition. But the support didn't develop and the Red infantry was unable to exploit its gains.

Even bad weather Monday failed to halt "the day-by-day destruction of the enemy's war potential" the Far Eastern Air Forces reported. More than 900 sorties (single flights) were flown. Many strikes blasted highways on which 2,000 trucks were spotted. Of these, 315 were claimed knocked out.

Sea-base planes supported the South Korean limited offensives.

U.S. Rejects Red Plan For Drafting Jap Peace Treaty

Washington, May 8 (AP) — The United States today rejected Russia's proposal to turn over the drafting of a Japanese peace treaty to four Pacific powers including Communist China.

Russia's purpose in advancing the proposal yesterday was to obtain a "double veto" over a Japanese peace settlement, the State Department said.

The United States intends, a department spokesman made plain, to to ahead with the present preparations for a settlement for Japan, with or without Russian participation.

The U. S. has been consulting 15 other nations in working out treaty terms and it is hoped to have a draft ready for signing within a few weeks.

Russia, in a note handed to American Ambassador Alan G. Kirk at Moscow yesterday, proposed calling a council of the foreign ministers of the U. S., Russia, Britain and Red China to meet in June or July to draft a treaty.

Other states which took part in the Pacific war would be "consulted." The Soviet proposal sharply attacked the American draft now under consideration and charged it represented an attempt to impose an American peace on Japan which would exclude the Soviet Union, China and other countries.

The prompt American rejection was given in a statement by State Department Press Officer Michael J. McDermott which said there would be a formal reply later. The statement itself amounted however to a definite turn down.

McDermott said the Russian proposal is the type "which the Soviet Union makes periodically whenever it wants to stall the conclusion of a Japanese peace. It has always been rejected and will be again."

UN Troops Must Stop 15 Miles From Manchuria, Says Marshall

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Marshall testified today that United Nations troops in Korea are barred from approaching within 15 miles of the Russian border.

In his second day of testimony on the ouster of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Marshall said also that MacArthur hal been ordered to confine his operations to Korea "and under no circumstances to carry out operations beyond the border of Korea into Manchuria."

There is every indication these orders have not been changed and still restrict the operations of Lt. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, MacArthur's successor as Pacific commander.

Some "Molification"

However, Marshall said there was a "modification" in the restrictions "in the event that our forces were attacked outside of Korea—to the effect that he (MacArthur) was authorized to retaliate in bombing against such operations."

Marshall, who like MacArthur is a five-star general, testified before the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees. They are making a general inquiry into MacArthur's dismissal from his Far Eastern commands and the policy differences which led to it.

The caution against giving the Russians any reason to raise questions about operations near their border was touched on earlier in the hearings.

MacArthur, in the witness chair last week, complained he was never allowed to bomb a North Korean supply center because of its proximity to the Russian border.

Too Near Siberia

This was the town of Rashin (Najin on some maps) in northeast Korea. Most of Korea borders on Manchuria, but an area in the northeast joins Russian Siberia.

Marshall said MacArthur was "cautioned against having units within, I think it was, about 15 miles of the border in northeast Korea where it touched the perimeter of Siberia, the Soviet government."

"The restrictions did not apply to operations by the navy on the water along off the coast of Korea, but those were restricted, in other words, forbidden, in relation to the Manchurian coast, the China coast, and most specifically the northeastern tip of Korea in close proximity to the Soviet border."

Senator Russell (D-Ga), chairman of the joint committee, asked whether the restrictions originated

NEGRO DIES IN ELECTRIC CHAIR FOR OLD CRIME

Laurel Miss., May 8 (AP)—Willie McGee, who fought a lone, losing battle against being put to death as a criminal assaulter, died in the electric chair early today.

Political issues colored the final months of the legal battles on behalf of the Negro convicted of assaulting a white woman and five and a half years ago. The case attracted world wide attention.

Up until the final hour supporters sought a stay of execution from Gov. Fielding Wright; U. S. District Judge Sidney Mize at Jackson, Miss.; U. S. Fifth Circuit Court of Appeals Judge Wayne G. Borah at New Orleans; Associate U. S. Supreme Court Justice Hugo Black; Chief Justice Fred Vinson of the United States, and President Truman.

All appeals were denied on the case which the state Supreme Court of Mississippi had ruled upon three times, and the U. S. Supreme Court had refused to review another three times. Governor Wright had once before declined executive clemency asked by members of the Civil Rights Congress.

Wright several weeks ago attributed the thousands of telegrams, letters and phone calls he received at least in part to action inspired by Communists. Some of the letters came from as far as distant Red China.

But about 6:30 p.m. authorities took McGee from the jail on the 90-mile trip to Laurel. Under Mississippi procedure, execution for a capital felony is carried out in the state's portable electric chair in the courtroom of the courthouse in the county where the felony occurred.

with the joint chiefs of staff or with the United Nations.

Discussed By NSC

Marshall said the restrictions grew out of the views of the chiefs of staff and were discussed in the National Security Council.

He said those taking part in the discussions as members of the council were President Truman, Vice President Barkley, Secretary of State Acheson, W. Stuart Symington, then chairman of the National Security Resources board, and himself as Secretary of Defense.

"There was an intermingling there of political necessities along with military directions," Marshall said.

The deceased was born in Gettysburg, a son of the late Richard A. and Eliza Jane (Jones) Monroe. He had been employed as a janitor at the Inductive Equipment factory.

His only survivor is a sister, Mrs. Ida J. Robinson, with whom he resided.

Funeral services Thursday at 2 p.m. from the AME Zion church conducted by the Rev. J. O. Fountain. Interment in Lincoln cemetery. Friends may call at the Bender funeral home Wednesday evening after 7 o'clock.

The quarantine was placed by William I. Shields, state sanitary officer for Adams county.

Discuss Plans For New Flying Circles

Fifteen members attended the Gettysburg Model Airplane club meeting held in the American Legion building Monday evening. President Eugene Fluharty presided. Plans were discussed for the grading and installing of two new flying circles at the Recreation field.

It was announced that model flyers from Hanover, Emmitsburg and other outside communities are interested in joining the local organization. Those present decided that membership would not be limited to Gettysburg but extended an invitation to any interested persons in nearby communities to join the club and participate in its activities.

A scale model of the Corsair F4U, including a "lieutenant-colonel" pilot, was displayed by its builder, John Pitzer, Jr. Two new members were introduced to the club. Membership of the organization now totals forty-one.

The next meeting will be held at the flying circle on the Recreation field Monday, May 21, at 7 o'clock. All members are urged to attend and are asked to bring a gas model to fly.

SENATE GROUP OKAY'S FINE'S INCOME LEVY

Harrisburg, May 8 (AP) — The Senate Finance committee today approved Gov. John S. Fine's bill to levy a flat income tax in Pennsylvania. Two amendments were inserted.

The committee action sent the disputed levy to the Senate for a vote, now set to be taken next week, possibly on Tuesday.

The measure, passed by the House after much wrangling, proposes a tax of one half of one per cent on individual income to raise $119,000,000 in the next two years.

At the same time the committee approved a companion bill increasing the corporate net income tax from four to five per cent to raise an additional $44,000,000. That measure also has passed the House.

Five-Hour Hearing

The Finance committee acted promptly on the governor's $163,000,000 tax program after a five-hour hearing on it yesterday.

One member of the committee who declined to be identified said the vote was nine to seven for approval of the individual income tax bill.

The two amendments would exempt domestics from having the tax payments withheld from their pay and would not require trustees to pay the tax on all trust funds under $2,000.

Persons receiving such funds, however, would be required to pay the tax.

Both amendments were recommended at the public hearing by John Y. Scott, counsel for the Pennsylvania Bankers association.

posed of Councilmen Fred Hummelbaugh, George D. March and L. D. Shealer. Hamme agreed to give the land and said it would make six lots available for new homes. No action was taken at Monday night's meeting because it was said the street would be a dead-end thoroughfare. The borough secretary, Mrs. Ann Dracha, was directed to send notices to 37 property owners ordering them to make repairs to sidewalks and curbing. A list of those needing repairs was read by the borough engineer, who said it was made up after the regular street inspection recently.

Among the property owners was borough itself. The borough was directed to repair its sidewalks in front of the fire engine house and at the borough garage.

Authorization was given for a "no through street" sign at Baltimore street and Wade avenue. Burges William G. Weaver said numerous tourists turn in Wade avenue. NATS SURPRISE TEAM IN EARLY SEASON GAMES

(By The Associated Press)

Even the most ardent Washington rooters are convinced Manager Bucky Harris is doing it with mirrors.

Any moment they expect to wake up and be told it isn't true — that the Senators' place among the American league's elite is a mirage, just a wonderful, fantastic dream.

Three weeks of the campaign have been disposed of and the Nats are atop of such highly regarded contenders as Boston, Cleveland and and Detroit. Only the New York Yankees stand between them and the top rung. And the distance is not great — a mere game and a half.

The amazing part of the Senators' surge is that they've been doing it without any help from Sid Hudson, their ace pitcher. The tall, lean righthander, burdened by a hip injury, hasn't pitched an inning yet.

Hudson Still Out

In Hudson's stead, Cuban righthanders Conrado Marrero and Sandalio Consuegra have shared the role of staff mainstays. Each has won three against no defeats.

Consuegra, for the first time this season, didn't have it last night. However, his mates up for this lapse by clubbing six Cleveland pitchers for 17 hits to outscore the Indians, 11-10. Mickey Harris finished the game and received cedit for the victory.

Gene Bearden, recently sold by Washington to Detroit, was the star of the Tigers' 10-6 victory over the Yankees which snapped the New Yorkers' eight-game winning streak.

Willard Nixon was the whole works as the Boston Red Sox blanked the Browns 2-0, in a St. Louis night game before a slim gathering of 2,495. The young righthander allowed only two hits and got half of Boston's four safeties off loser Ned Garver. One of Nixon's hits was his first major league home run.

Brooklyn Moves Up

Brooklyn moved into third place, edging the St. Louis Cardinals 4-3, in the only game in the National league. It was played at night. The Cards forced the game into overtime on a ninth-inning home run by catcher Del Rice, then took a temporary 3-2 lead only to have the Dodgers bounce back with two runs in their half of the 10th. Despite the loss, the Redbirds retained their first place lead over Boston.

Preacher Roe, an ex-Redbird, went all the way to earn his fourth triumph without a setback. Gerry Staley was the loser.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, May 8 (AP)—When the Southern California track team trained UCLA Saturday, 94½ to 36½, it was the Trojans' 42nd consecutive meet without a defeat. . . . Counting out the war years, they haven't lost to a collegiate opponent since 1933. . . . You'd think that should satisfy them, but they already have their eyes on the 1952 Olympics. . . . For instance, there's Sim Iness, a six-foot-six discus thrower who bettered 170 feet last year. He has been having scholastic difficulties but expects to have them solved by next spring. Dean Cromwell figures Sim is the guy most likely to hit 200 feet with the discus.

Then there's Freshman Jim Lea, who has run the 220-yard low hurdles in 23.3 seconds and looks like an Olympic "cinch" in the 400-meter hurdles. Of course, he can't match Sophomore Jack Davis in the lows yet. . . . Still another soph, Parry O'Brien, has put the shot 55 feet 4½ inches, which makes him a threat to Jim Fuchs' records. . . . No wonder Californians find track meets interesting.

THUMB FUN

Summary of Connie Ryan's "hidden ball" feat vs. the Giants Sunday: "Lockman off second, Leo off the field." . . . Durocher, who became so heated over the affair that he was tossed out of the game and failed to return for the second tussle, explained: "It's just as well I didn't go out there. The way I was feeling, I probably would have got into another scrap and drawn a 10-day suspension."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Pleasant surprise of Michigan State's spring football practice was the showing of Sophomore-to-be Billy Wells, who could beat out Vince Pisano and Ray Vogt for the wingback job. Backfield Coach Red Dawson figures he's a real comer. . . . Hard-luck guy for the week must be the Braves' George Estock, who made his first big league start Sunday only to run smack into Cliff Chambers' no-hitter. . . .

Interstate League

(By The Associated Press)

Hagerstown knocked Lancaster out of the top berth last night, thus moving up to a first place tie with Sunbury in the Interstate league.

The Braves drove no-hitter Keith Kelley to the showers in the sixth inning and went on to score an 11 to 3 victory. After a wobbly start, which enabled the Red Roses to score their three runs, veteran Andy Bush settled down and tamed Lancaster the rest of the way.

Meanwhile, Rudy Yandoli tucked away a four-hit shutout as the Sunbury Giants dealt the Salisbury A's their fifth straight loss, 6 to 0. The Giants themselves eked out only five hits, but three of them were for extra bases.

Allentown defeated York 4 to 3, marking the sixth loss in a row for the White Roses, and the third straight one-run decision they have dropped. Andy Schultz, who pitched four innings of hitless ball and then weakened for a spell, was the winner.

Niles Jordan, who won 17 games for Terre Haute, Ind., of the Three-eye league last year, pitched the Wilmington Blue Rocks to a 6 to 3 conquest of the Harrisburg Senators. Wilmington was outhit five to four, but drew nine walks and benefited by four Harrisburg errors.

OLYMPIC ACTION POLICY TO BE "WAIT AND SEE"

By BEN PHLEGAR

Vienna, May 8 (AP)—The Russians are in the Olympic games—what next?

The answer here at the annual meeting of the International Olympic committee seemed today to be that nobody knows for sure.

"We will just have to wait and see," said one member of the committee.

The Russians got in yesterday. The IOC voted 31 to 0 to recognize the new Soviet Olympic committee. Three unidentified delegates did not vote.

Agreed To Rules

Avery Brundage of Chicago, vice president of the IOC, seemed to express the general feeling when he pointed out that the Russian delegation which appeared here said it knew and agreed with the Olympic rules so there was no reason not to accept the new committee.

Brundage, one of the world's greatest supporters of pure amateurism in sports, had been a little worried about reports that the Russians gave money prizes to their athletes.

The Russians said those reports might have been true years ago but were not now. Brundage said the Russians assured him they believed in the same amateur rules he supports.

At Face Value

The official Olympic report on the closed meeting at which the Russians were accepted pointed out strongly that the Olympic movement has no room for politics of any flavor.

Countries which join the Olympic committee agree to disregard entirely race, religion and politics. The Russian committee signed a statement that it will support this creed.

Committee members agreed that if they were interested in having the Russians at all they had to take the Russian committee's statements at face value.

The IOC normally accepts statements of committees seeking admission in good faith unless there is evidence to show that they should be investigated.

and the parsonage on a "pay as you go" plan. He made special mention of the assistance given activities at his church by Gettysburg college students and the local Protestant churches.

Talks On "Unsolved Problems"

The Rev. Mr. Fountain spoke on "unsolved Problems." He pointed to the lack of "stability and permanence" in the world today and said stability in the home, the need for proper discipline of children and housing problems are current "unsolved problems." Turning then to national problems, the speaker said: "We don't have peace and it's our own fault. Our leaders aren't willing to pay the price for peace. At Washington we see the Old Soldier and General Marshall both seeking vindication of their views and the Old Soldier and the Commander-in-Chief not even on speaking terms."

As he concluded he said the most important question for every individual to solve is "what are you going to do with Jesus of Nazareth? It's a problem you must face and make a decision for neutral you cannot be."

Next week the Lions will hold the annual election of officers and on May 21 the meeting will be held at the Mt. Joy Lutheran parish house.

Harrisburg May 8 (AP)—The state American Legion and the state Veterans of Foreign Wars gave their support today to a new House bill to permit disabled veterans to hunt game from automobiles. Under the present law, no hunting is permitted from any vehicle.

Rep. Maurice L. Banker (R.-Huntingdon) introduced the bill in the House yesterday and disclosed it was backed by the Legion and VFW. A disabled veteran would be one who suffered his injury while in the service of his country.

Unexpected Chore For Rev. Naugle

The Rev. Ivan Naugle, of Thurmont, formerly of Gettysburg, had an unexpected chore to perform before he could get down to preaching Sunday at the United Brethren church at Deerfield, on the mountain above Smithsburg, Md.

One of the members was preparing to take her seat near the rear of the church when she saw a black object stretched across the back of the seat begin to wiggle. It was a large black snake which the Rev. Naugle had to dispatch before proceeding with the service.

NEW ATTACKS ON MILK BOARD

Harrisburg, May 8 (AP) — Pennsylvania's Milk Control Commission was under strong attack on two fronts today.

The city of Pittsburgh pressed an appeal in Dauphin county court against a new July 1 price increase ordered by the commission in the steel city area.

In the General Assembly, Sen. Elmer J. Holland (D.-Allegheny) renewed his fight to seek abolition of the state milk price-fixing agency.

Holland failed last night in a new effort to force his abolition bill from the Senate agriculture committee. The move was defeated by the Republican majority on a straight party line vote of 29-20.

The court appeal against a one-cent increase ordered in the Pittsburgh milk marketing district July 1, was filed late yesterday by Albert D. Brandon, assistant Pittsburgh solicitor. Similar increases also are listed July 1 in the Altoona-Johnstown and Erie districts.

The commission's new order calls for price increases to 23 cents a quart home delivery, and 22 cents, store sales in the Pittsburgh area; 22 cents in the Johnstown-Altoona area and 22½ cents in the Erie area.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS

OUTLETS

A body of water that has not outlets soon becomes stagnant. There is nothing healthy about it. It's the same with human beings. They cannot stand still and hope to get anywhere. From earliest childhood there must be outlets to stimulate imagination.

I once knew a surgeon who took off three months from his year's work and went out into the open for receation and new life. No wonder during those other nine months he was the skillful and trusted surgeon that he was, beloved by his patients, not only because they had faith in his skill but because of his habitual cheer. His laugh in the morning could be heard along the corridors of the hospital where he worked, and so gave hope to many who never really saw him.

Our outlets can easily become our greatest joy. I once knew a great American newspaper publisher who was a noted fisherman as well. Often he came to my city and we would meet for a good talk, but it wasn't about books, people, or newspapers; it was about fish and the way to get them to take the line thrown to them. And all about everything concerning with the art of fishing.

I have recently been reading a book by Justice William O. Douglas. His hobby has been mountain climbing and adventuring in the open. All naturalists and lovers of the wild will tell you their greatest thrills come from what they discover and what is revealed to them in such magic fashion as they communicate with the forces of nature.

Every interest that on has is an outlet for further joy, health and personal happiness. The man or woman of many interests is always the man or woman of many friends! People who are forever seeking outlets for their pent-up energies and ideas are never numbered among the bores. They attract—never detract.

Many a man, burdened with problems, has been given an outlet for them through the reading of a detective story, or some humorous publication. A baseball game, an evening at the theatre, or a week or more every now and then in the country, away from all responsibility, is more than a cure for many an ailment! There is such a thing as sticking too close to yourself.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Free Enterprise."

WEEDS

As with a child who will not eat,
With certain flowers I coax and plead,
Lest loss shall all my care defeat,
To take the food I know they need.
But oft they turn their heads away
And wan and thin and frail they stay.

But stubborn, healthy things are weeds,
They eat and drink and daily thrive.
They steal the food a rose bush needs.
They ask no help to stay alive.
Should constant watch I fail to keep,
Across the garden beds they'd sweep.

So with our habits, good and bad.
The evil ones have greater strength,
They'll crowd the space the good ones had
And run their roots to deeper length.
Like weeds they flourish, while the fair
And worth while traits need constant care.

PRES. TRUMAN DEFENDS HIS KOREA POLICY

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

Washington, May 8 (AP)—President Truman sought to convince his countrymen last night that Gen. Douglas MacArthur's Korean war proposals might provoke another World war and "death blow" atomic attacks on America's great cities.

Today he observes his 67th birthday and the sixth anniversary of his proclamation of victory over Nazi Germany awaiting reaction to his declaration that victory can be won in Korea. The first comment from Republican senators was to the effect they'll have to be shown.

Mr. Truman took a personal hand in the administration drive to rally public support for his course with a foreign policy speech to some 800 civilian defense workers here last night.

Communism "Stopped"

He declared that to expand the Korean war, as the general he ousted proposes, would bring the "real possibility" of Russia launching "death blow" atomic attacks on New York, Cleveland, Chicago, Seattle, Los Angeles and Washington and other cities.

On the other hand, he said, the free nations have stopped the march of Communism in Asia and "dealt a heavy blow to the Kremlin conspiracy" all over the world by their fight in Korea.

"Remember this," Mr. Truman said, "if we do have another world war, it will be an atomic war. We could expect many atomic bombs to be dropped on American cities.

"And a single one of them could cause many times more casualties than we have suffered in all the fighting in Korea. I do not want to be responsible for bringing that about."

Assails GOP

Mr. Truman did not refer by name to MacArthur, who has advocated air action against Manchuria, a naval blockade and use of Chinese Nationalist troops on Formosa against the Chinese Reds.

Supporters of MacArthur—mostly Republicans—plainly were the targets of this assertion: "We are right in the midst of a big debate on foreign policy. A lot of people are looking at this debate as if it were just a political fight. But the stakes are a lot more important than the outcome of an election. The thing that is at stake in this debate may be atomic war.

"Our foreign policy is not a political issue. It is a matter of life and death. It is a matter of the future of mankind."

For the United States to "go it alone" in Asia, he said, could wreck the whole free world security system, including the United Nations and the North Atlantic Pact. He said if the United States is separated from its Allies, "that would be a tremendous Soviet victory."

INSECT AND DISEASE NOTES

Green aphids often attack rose shoots early. Growers should be expecting these sapsuckers and combat them at once with a spray of nicotine sulfate in soapy water.

Bacterial blight causes large brown spots on garden bean leaves, followed by water-soaked and browning splotches on the pods. No sprays or dusts control this seedborne disease. Buying seed grown in the Far West and use of resistant varieties are the two main steps in prevention.

Spray peony shoots with Bordeaux mixture when they are two to four inches high, including the soil immediately around the base. Repeat at least twice before flower buds begin to show color. This inexpensive precaution prevents Botrytis blight.

The pale green plant lice which attack garden and sweet peas may escape detection until plants are seriously weakened and the pests become so numerous that extermination is difficult. Inspect peas every day or two and spray the lice with nicotine sulfate in soapy water as soon as the first arrivals are seen.

Bacterial wilt of sweet corn cannot be curbed or prevented by any known sprays or dusts. Where this disease was prevalent last summer, growers should plant only varieties known to be resistant, such as Golden Cross Bantam, Stowell's Evergreen, Marcross, Spancross, Whipcross, and a few others.

A small number of cabbage, tomato and other set-out plants may be protected from cutworms by placing a paper collar around each stem—one inch in the soil and two inches above, with a half-inch space between the paper and the stem.

Ants seldom injure any kinds of plants by direct feeding. In most cases when they are seen on plants they are there to feed on the sweet secretion of aphids, better known as honeydew, or to obtain sap from plant wounds. Too, decaying plant roots, stems or other tissues attract these industrious visitors.

Black spot and mildew of roses must be prevented; neither disease can be cured after infection is visible. Dusting rose foliage every 10 days with a homemade mixture of one part (by weight) lead arsenate and nine parts superfine dusting sulphur will prevent these ills and at the same time control such eating insects as rose chafers and rose slugs.

Black-rot of grapes is seen as a sudden decay just before the fruits ripen. Control or prevention measures must be started now in the form of a full schedule of protective sprays. Readers may obtain free copies of our 1951 grape spraying instructions by sending the editor a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Many gardeners who fail to control the green cabbage worm either neglect combat too late or they are afraid to apply insecticides on the leaves or heads. The first factor is inexcusable; the latter objection is fully overcome by using rotenone as a dust, applied when the first worms appear.

And by the way, cabbage aphids (pale green lice) may sneak into the garden and cause serious damage unless plants are inspected carefully and frequently. Nicotine sulfate (Black Leaf 40) as a spray in soapy water or fresh nicotine dust will kill these pests. Combat should begin when the first lice are seen.

In all insect and disease problems with vegetables, fruits and ornamental plants it is wise to be armed with needed prevention and control knowledge before the trouble occurs. For this reason the editor invites all related questions.

TWO INSECT ENEMIES OF ONIONS

Insects demonstrate strange and varied appetites. Termites, for example, feed exclusively in dry timber, preferably after it is built into houses. Hornworms relish the strongest green leaves of tobacco plants. And there are weevils which feed inside the hottest of red peppers. Therefore, it is not astonishing to learn than two widespread pests attack growing onions—thrips and root or bulb maggots.

Onion thrips are tiny insects no more than one-twenty-fifth of an inch in length. Observed beneath a reading glass they are seen to be yellow, with delicately fringed wings. The nymphs (young) are wingless. Because they are so small, thrips may easily escape detection. Their ravages, however, give them away unmistakably. Thrip damages on onion plants are often referred to as "white blast." The injuries resemble those caused by a different species of thrips infesting gladiolus plants. Whitish blotches are seen on onion leaves, with white chain-like feeding marks. Tips of ravaged leaves wither and turn brown.

Of course, early discovery is an important factor in successful warfare on onion thrips. With the first signs of attack, infested plants should be sprayed with a solution composed of one tablespoonful of Black Leaf 40 in a gallon of water in which a half teacupful of table corn sirup has been stirred. Apply so the spray runs down into the leaf sheaths where thrips hide. Keep fence rows and other idle areas in and near gardens free from overwinter vegetative litter to reduce the thrip population.

Onion maggots are not unlike the common cabbage maggot in size, color, shape and habits. Small flies deposit their eggs near onion plants quite early in the spring. These hatch into tiny white maggots (grubs or larvae) which burrows into the plant stem and later work their way down into the bulb. Several maggots may inhabit a single bulb. Invariably infested onions later decay. And too, badly burrowed young onion plants may die outright. There are a least two and perhaps three full broods each summer in this latitude.

For several years many New England gardeners have used successfully a spray of oil emulsion in Bordeaux mixture—commercial oil emulsion mixed with 4-6-50 Bordeaux mixture at the rate of 1 pint to 4½ gallons of Bordeaux. Tops of onions should be sprayed with this mixture every week (oftener after rains) during the period when egg-laying flies are active and also later when the small maggots are hatching.

Perhaps the mostly widely used and effective remedy is the same treatment recommended for controlling the cabbage root maggot. Calomel is dissolved in a little hot water and then diluted with cool or cold water at the rate of 1 ounce to 10 gallons. Pour this along the rows at the rate of 1 gallon to 35 feet of row. Because calomel settles quickly, it is important to keep the solution stirred vigorously while applying it. Repeat the treatment every week until four applications are made. The idea is to wet the soil sufficiently to prevent the egg from hatching or to kill the newly hatched maggot before it enters the stem.

If friendly birds are kept numerous near vegetable gardens they will reduce both thrips and maggot flies.

WARNER BAXTER, "CISCO KID" OF FILMS, EXPIRES

Beverly Hills, Calif., May 8 (AP) — Death has stopped the horrible pain which handsome Warner Baxter, the movie's original Cisco Kid, suffered for years.

The suave, virile matinee idol died last night at his home. He was 62.

For years he had suffered from arthritis, the pain of which was so great that he was unable to eat. It also created a vitamin deficiency and the combination brought on slow starvation.

Three weeks ago, a lobotomy (brain operation) was performed to lessen the pain. Bronchial pneumonia set in to hasten the end.

Baxter was the second actor ever to win the top Academy award Oscar — and a scared jackrabbit was responsible.

In 1928, Raoul Walsh, the famed director, was both directing and playing the top role of the Cisco Kid in the first outdoor all-talking picture "In Old Arizona."

While he was driving home from location scenes in Zion Canyon, Utah, the headlights on Walsh's car frightened a jackrabbit. It jumped and crashed through the windshield, blinding Walsh's right eye.

Baxter replaced him in the role. Both the picture and Baxter won 1929 Oscars. Emil Jannings had won the first male acting Oscar the year previous.

Although Baxter was one of Hollywood's top stars before and after the 1929 award, he always considered the Cisco Kid his favorite role.

MOVIE ACTRESS TRIES SUICIDE

Hollywood, May 8 (AP) — Actress Mary Astor attempted suicide early today but her condition was described as good after hospital treatment, police reported.

Police Officers R. O. Ernst and D. R. Gardner said they were called to her suburban Encino home and found her unconscious on the floor of a bedroom. The officers said sleeping pills were strewn about. They listed the case as "attempted suicide." They 45-year-old actress was taken to a hospital.

Miss Astor's husband, Thomas Wheelock, was not at home at the time. The officers said Miss Astor recently had been in ill health and somewhat despondent.

The actress' long career in both silent and talking movies started in 1921 when she appeared in "Beggar's Maid" with Reginald Denny. Later she rose to fame as a leading lady playing opposite John Barrymore notably in "Don Juan." In 1942 she won a supporting actress Oscar for her work in "The Great Lie."

Her first marriage was to Kenneth Hawks, in 1928. He was killed in a plane crash shortly afterward and in 1930 she eloped to Yuma, Ariz., and married Dr. Franklin Thorpe. It was during a divorce action and various court hearings involving the actress and Dr. Thorpe in 1936 that portions of Miss Astor's diary, which recorded her intimate thoughts, were made public.

After divorcing Dr. Thorpe she married Manuel Del Campo, Mexico City insurance salesman, in 1937. This marriage also ended in divorce. She had a son, Anthony Paul, by her marriage to Del Campo, and a daughter, Marilyn, by Dr. Thorpe. She married her present husband, a broker, in 1945.

Cordell Hull Is Critically Ill

Washington, May 8 (AP) — Cordell Hull, secretary of state in the Franklin D. Roosevelt administrations, is critically ill.

He has been in poor health for several years and has been a patient since Saturday at the navy medical center at nearby Bethesda, Md., where his condition was described early today as precarious. Hull was 79 last Oct. 2.

He was secretary of state from the time Mr. Roosevelt took office until 1945, when ill health forced him to resign shortly before signing of the United Nations charter, for which he had worked.

Sees Benefits From MacArthur Hearings

Washington, May 8 (AP)—Senator James H. Duff (R-Pa) believes the Senate investigation of the removal of General MacArthur will lessen the heat of the bitter foreign policy feud.

Anyone who heard MacArthur or read his testimony, Senator Duff said, must realize "he is not playing any politics."

In a speech to the District of Columbia League of Republican Women, the senator said further that the same is true of "the other great men in our army, navy and air force" whose testimony has been asked by the Senate Armed Services-Foreign Relations committee.

"The over-all result," commented Senator Duff, "will be an understanding of the difficulty of our situation."

Harrisburg, May 8 (AP) — A bill streamlining and codifying all laws relating to Pennsylvania's 47 third class cities headed into the House today after unanimous passage in the Senate.

The result of four years study by the Local Government commission, the bill is the first codification of such laws since 1930.

"We think we've got a pretty good code," said Sen. George B. Stevenson (R-Clinton), co-sponsor of the bill and chairman of the Senate Local Government committee, which facilitated passage.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg — The Children's choir of Elias Evangelical Lutheran church met Monday at 4 p.m. with 25 members and Choir Director Keith Janicke and Rev. Philip Bower, pastor, present. The purpose of the meeting was to plan a choir picnic. Sue Eyster presided at the meeting when it was decided to hold their picnic next Saturday, May 12, at Big Pipe Creek park. The choir will meet at the church at 9:45 and go in cars to be provided by the parents. Mr. and Mrs. Janicke will be hosts to the choir for the picnic which Mr. Janicke is giving the boys and girls of the choir "as a gesture of his very great appreciation of their loyalty displayed in their regular and prompt attendance at all choir rehearsals."

Mr. Janicke began work with this children's choir at the invitation of the pastor last September and he has met with them every week on Monday after school at the Parish house with the exception of a two weeks' vacation following Christmas. They have sung several times at the services of the church and at Easter they sang the entire musical part of the Easter play given by the Sunday school. Since Easter, the children of this choir ranging in age from seven to 12 years have been taught by Mr. Janicke to sing the entire liturgical parts of the Communion service of the Lutheran church and on Sunday, May 6, they served as the choir for the church service and sang the entire service alone. They sang all the responses including the Gloria Patri, the Kyrie and the Gloria in Excelsis, and the threefold amen after the benediction.

BRITON OFFERS TO QUIT TRADE WITH RED CHINA

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(AP Foreign Affairs Analyst)

The increasingly caustic international argument over trading with the enemy — sepecificall of selling strategic materials to Red China — is coming to a head.

Criticism of Britain for continuing such trade finally has resulted in a conciliatory gesture by Sir Hartley Shawcross, president of the British Board of Trade, in the House of Commons. Sir Hartley made a statement yesterday hinting that the country would cease all exports of strategic materials to Communist China if the United Nations so decreed.

Coincidentally the United States delegation to the United Nations presented an embargo resolution to the 12-nation sanctions committee. This measure would provide for a world wide embargo against the shipment to Bolshevist China of war materials, or raw products which can be used in manufacturing war materials.

Appeal To Members

The U. N. last summer asked all members not to lend aid to aggressors.

The United States and the Philippines instituted absolute embargoes. Many other countries inaugurated voluntary controls.

Britain, while inaugurating some trade controls, has opposed an embargo, as has France. This has been on the ground that an embargo might hinder any Red inclination to agree to a cease-fire.

Britain's main objection has been to the timing of the proposed embargo, on the ground that a delay in imposing it would give China a change to negotiate peace.

The attitude of Britain and France has been a major factor in the struggle of the United States to secure the imposition of an embargo. However, the general expectations among observers has been that both these great powers will follow the United States, and this viewpoint would seem to be justified by the statement of Sir Hartley Shawcross.

Police Are Seeking Escaped Convict

Pittsburgh, May 8 (AP)—Police today sought a Western Penitentiary convict who escaped from the big Pittsburgh prison by using a rope of strips cut from mattress covers.

Guards rounded up four other convicts yesterday, one of them after a 30-foot fall from an improvised rope.

Still at large is Andrew Kaczynski, 34, serving an 18 to 36 year sentence on burglary and rape charges.

The fall injured James Woods, formerly of Pittsburgh. Woods suffered a possible broken pelvis. He is serving a long sentence for robbing motorists who stopped for traffic lights.

Trapped by guards atop the prison roof were Thomas Finney and Robert Moton, both of Pittsburgh, and Charles Baughman, 24, of Altoona.

Prison officials said the five men overpowered guard James McNamara, 78, and escaped through a trap door leading to the roof.

News is formed from the first letters of North East West and South.

Would Put Limits On Holding Suspects

Harrisburg, May 8 (AP)—A new House bill today proposed a $5,000 fine against officers who improperly arrest or detain suspected law violators.

The measure, introduced by Reps. Herman Toll and John J. Welsh, both Philadelphia Democrats, also spells out new limitations in confining suspected lawbreakers.

It would prohibit the arrest of any person without a warrant, put a 48-hour maximum on detention of persons without hearings, require a record of all detentions, and prohibit magistrates from continuing preliminary hearings for accused persons.

The bill proposes a penalty of one year in jail or up to $5,000 in fines, or both, against officials failing to follow its provisions.

CATTLE—Receipts estimated at 800 head of fresh arrivals fell about 35 per cent short of the number offered a week ago and figured 37 per cent less than the number on sale a year ago. In addition to the fresh receipts, approximately 200 head held from late last week were also on sale. Principal curtailing factor according to traders was the announcement of price controls to become effective this week. Salable supply included the equivalent of seven loads of slaughter steers and eight loads of stock cattle. Balance of supply consisted mainly of cows and bulls.

Trading was slow throughout the session, but due to the small number on offer a relatively early clearance was effected. Sales of slaughter steers were made on an unevenly steady to 50 cents lower basis compared with last Thursday. Least change was noted on high-good and choice offerings that sold in initial rounds. Couple of prime 860-pound slaughter steer yearlings, $37. Run consisted mainly of mixed lots of commercial to choice, $32—36.50.

Heifers showed little net price change compared with last Thursday. Odd lots and load or so of good and low-choice, $29—32.50; odd utility grade were noted downward to $25.

Bulk of cow supply consisted of canner to utility offerings with commercial grades rather scarce. Trading very slow in opening rounds but improved later. Dealings unevenly steady to mostly 50c—$1 lower compared with last Thursday. Odd lots of commercial cows on sale, $27.50—29, while most of utility offerings, $26—27, and canners and cutters, $23—25.50, mostly $25 down. Few shelly canners noted below $20 mark.

Bulls also moved slowly and ruled unevenly steady to $1 lower. A load of high-yielding commercial-grade sausage bulls, $31.25, but most odd lots commercial offerings, $27.50—31. Utility-grade bulls, $24—25.50, and a few cutter offerings to $23 or under.

Trading in stock cattle department was more active than in the slaughter divisions and prices for the most part were steady with last week's declines but in some instances sales were made as high as at any time last week. Load of choice 585-pound stocker steers topped $42. Most of supply comprised of mixed medium to choice stocker and feeder steers and stock calves, $8.25—39.

CALVES—Some additional pressure was noted on utility and commercial grade slaughter vealers and calves but little net change was brought about in the final selling levels. Trading slow throughout morning, but selling level mostly unchanged compared with Friday's quotations. Top continued to be $40 and most of the mixed lots of medium to prime vealers, $36—40. Commercial and good offerings, $30—36, and cull and utility, $20—30, with only odd head light culls noted below $20 mark.

HOGS—Marketings totaled about the same as the number received a week ago but fell about 50 per cent short of the volume counted in the corresponding day last year. Sales steady in most cases but the top on barrows and gilts was 25 cents higher and choice light sows 50 cents higher than last Friday. Good and choice 170-230-pound barrows and gilts, $22.25—22.75, bulk sales $22.50, top $22.75. Most of the 240-260-pound averages moved at $21.75—22; 260-300 pounds, $20.50; over 300 pounds, $19.50 downward according to weight and condition. Lighter weights, 120-140 pounds, $18.50—19; 140-160 pounds, $19.75—20.50.

Sows less than 400 pounds, $18.25—18.50, but several lots of choice around 350 pounds and lighter kinds climbed to $19. Good 400-450 pounds, $17—17.50. Over 450-pound sows, from $16.50, depending on weight and condition. Stags generally discounted $3 from the price for same weight sows.

SHEEP—Supplies in the sheep department continued of negligible numbers. Small offering was made up entirely of choice and prime grade 71-87-pound spring lambs, $38 top, which was $2 under last Friday's quotations. Wooled slaughter ewe quotations were considered nominally unchanged at $20 downward. Top quotation for choice around 115-pound and lighter offerings.

NEED FUNDS TO

since recent appraisals had been in excess of that amount . . . an attempt was made to negotiate an option, the acceptance of which would be contingent upon the appropriation of additional funds. The National Park Service was unable to secure an option, and . . . lands adjacent to the National Cemetery had changed ownership."

Further efforts to have additional land purchased for the National Cemetery will be made by the Legion post, discussion at the meeting indicated. Several possible plans were outlined by various members.

A committee comprising Charles Smith, Roy Alexander, Edward Culp, and Howard Williams was appointed by Commander G. Noel Flynn to nominate delegates to the state convention to be held August 7 through 11 at Pittsburgh. The committee will report at the next meeting.

1,224 Members

Membership in the post now totals 1,224, Adjutant William T. Timmins, Jr., reported.

Roy Alexander announced that any veteran claiming the state of Connecticut as his residence at the time of his entry into service and who has not as yet applied for the Connecticut state bonus must do so by June 30, the final deadline for such applications.

At a meeting of the club held following the post meeting President Lawrence Sheads reported that on Thursday night at 9 o'clock a free bingo will be held at the post home under sponsorship of the auxiliary. All members of the auxiliary and Legion are invited, Sheads said, adding that guests may be invited provided house rules are complied with.

A motion picture, "The First Forty Days in Korea," was shown. About 60 attended the meeting and about 200 were present for the movie which was open to the public.

Harrisburg, May 8 (AP)—Minority office holders would be prohibited from membership on the Democratic state committee and from serving as a Democratic county chairman or vice chairman under a rule change proposed today.

The Democratic state committee scheduled a meeting (at noon, EST) to act on the suggested rule change, one of several proposed to the statewide group. The rule would apply to such officials as a Democratic county commissioner in a Republican-controlled county.

PILOT SURVIVES EXPLOSION THAT WRECKS BOMBER

Houston, Tex., May 8 (AP) — The pilot of a big jet bomber was freakishly blasted clear last night when the B-45 exploded. Three crewmen were killed.

Hundreds saw the bright flash of the exploding plane. And the burning wreckage as it fell to earth spurred reports of a two-plane collision.

Lt. Bob Hampton was not seriously injured when blasted clear. His first though after catapulting into space was: "I hope it opens." His parachute did.

Only charred, twisted wreckage scattered over a muddy pasture a few miles southeast of Houston was left of the Barksdale Air Force base (Shreveport, La.) bomber.

Second In Two Days

The plane was on a routine flight from Barksdale to Ellington Air Force base here and return when it exploded near Ellington, 15 miles southeast of here. It had just gone into a turn, ready to start home at 7:10 PCS.

The bomber, capable of carrying 53 tons of bombs, was flying at about 1500 feet when it unaccountably exploded.

It was the second bomber crash in two days. Twenty-three died Sunday when a giant B-36, equipped with auxiliary jet engines, crashed at Kirtland Air Force base, Albuquerque, N. M.

Ellington Air Force base refused comment on the crash. No cause was advanced. Names of the three dead were withheld pending notification of next of kin.

UNEMPLOYMENT DOWN

Washington, May 8 (AP) — Unemployment dropped 403,000 in April to a 1,744,000 total — the lowest since October of 1948 — the Census Bureau reported yesterday. The decline was caused by shrinkage of more than 500,000 in the labor force — made up of both job holders and job seekers. Actual employment also declined, approximately 135,000.

Pittsburgh, May 8 (AP)—The U. S. Third Circuit Court of Appeals has ruled the FBI can arrest persons on suspicion. The decision may set a precedent for the FBI and other law enforcers, too, in the fight to stamp out interstate crime.

The court, in handing down the opinion yesterday, ruled the Pittsburgh FBI office acted legally in arresting Joseph W. Bianco some 14 months ago. An FBI agent arrested Bianco at the airport here after he got off a plane from Baltimore. The agent said he found lottery tickets and gambling gear in Bianco's luggage.

"Doodlesack" is a colloquial name for bagpipes.

PONDER MOVE TO BLOCK SUIT OF EX-U. S. JUDGE

Harrisburg, May 8 (AP) — A U. S. claims commissioner today considered a government motion to dismiss former Federal Judge Albert W. Johnson's suit to collect a $10,000 a year pension.

The motion was made yesterday by U. S. Attorney William A. Stern after three Luzerne county lawyers testified Johnson was "sound of mind and legally responsible for his acts" when he signed a statement renouncing his pension rights.

Commissioner George Foster immediately took the motion under consideration and told counsel for the government and Johnson he would have a decision "within the next 10 days."

Previously the lawyers, J. H. Bigelow, Hazleton; M. J. McDonald, Ashley; and Thomas Lewis, Plymouth, told the commissioner that Johnson made his own decision in renouncing the pension.

3 Witness Signing

Bigelow said Max Goldschein, U. S. attorney, drew up the renunciation statement and the paper was signed in the presence of the three lawyers, April 14, 1945.

This was the day after Johnson appeared before a subcommittee of the House Judiciary committee, taking testimony to determine whether Johnson should be impeached on charges he conspired to obstruct justice and defraud the government.

Bigelow traced his trip to Washington to act as chief counsel for Johnson before the House committee.

Asked if he advised Johnson voluntarily to sign the renunciation statement, he replied:

"I did not. He made that decision."

Fine Sets Date For Special Election

Pittsburgh, May 8 (AP) — National political observers will pay close attention to a special election July 24 to fill the vacancy in Pennsylvania's 33rd congressional district. Governor John S. Fine yesterday set the special election for the same date as Pennsylvania's primary.

Voters in the big Allegheny country district will choose a Congressman to serve the unexpired term of Representative Frank Buchanan, McKeesport Democrat who died April 27.

Now that the great debate over General MacArthur's dismissal has swung into full crescendo both Democratic and Republican leaders believe the election in the 33rd Congressional district may show how voters feel about the issue.

Thus far the candidates for the vacancy haven't been chosen. They will be nominated soon by the Republican and Democratic parties under party rules.

THOUSAND DEAD IN EL SALVADOR EARTHQUAKE

San Salvador, El Salvador, May 8 (AP)—Desolation, ruin and death blanketed areas of eastern El Salvador today in the wake of the little Central American nation's worst earthquake disaster in history. In one city alone some 1,000 persons perished in the first shock Sunday.

As Red Cross agents and other relief workers rushed to the stricken areas, new tremors were reported yesterday in Santiago de Maria—already battered by the first quake—and in the city of Berlin. There were no casualties reported immediately from the latest quakes.

Worst hit by the initial shock was Jucuapa, a city of some 12,000 90 miles east of San Salvador. The government said about 1,000 persons were killed there.

3 Days of Mourning

Severe damage was also reported in the city of Chinameca, population 17,000, about two miles east of Jucuapa, and the nearby towns of Neuva Guadalupe, Santiago de Maria and Caserios. Hundreds of persons were injured in the area—200 in Chinameca alone.

The government decreed three days of national mourning.

The newspaper La Prensa Grafica said Jucuapa was a scene of "desolation, ruin and death" and that other towns in the neighborhood had been "destroyed."

In Jucuapa, the report said, "words cannot express the anxiety and destruction, with the streets filled with debris and the moaning of the injured heard."

El Salvador is in a volcanic region and subject to periodic earth shocks, but the country has never before experienced such a destructive quake.

The National Meteorological observatory said the catastrophe might be attributable to a volcanic peak called El Limbo some three miles south of Chinameca.

Lititz To Celebrate Pretzel's Birthday

Lititz, Pa., May 8 (AP) — This town is gift-wrapping little boxes filled with a famous tidbit, and sending them to President Truman, the Veep and all 96 U. S. senators.

Largesse by the scoopsful will be lavished on everybody here. Schoolkids are getting a special mid-week holiday. And the whole community of 5,000 people, to say nothing of a lot of outsiders who are coming for the festivities, means to have more fun than it's ever had in a not too exciting history.

All this fuss is being made because the pretzel — American variety — will be 90 years old tomorrow. Joining in the birthday celebration in the town where the pretzel first was made in this country will be Senator James H. Duff (R.-Pa.).

Besides the pretzels shipped to Washington, stacks of them will be handed out free in stores, at street corners and at the N. D. Sturgis factory where a plaque will be unveiled. The Sturgis plant is said to be one of the oldest pretzel factories in the world.

ADOPTS NEW BABY

Seattle, May 8 (AP) — Paul Holmes' mother cat didn't waste any time grieving when one of her two kittens died. She promptly headed into a nearby woodland and returned shortly with a new baby in her mouth. The new baby — now being nursed by the mother cat — is a rat.

CONGRESSMAN DIES SUDDENLY

Washington, May 8 (AP) — Rep. John Kee, 77-year old chairman of the House Foreign Affairs committee, died today of a heart attack.

He collapsed during a routine session of the committee and was pronounced dead by Dr. George W. Calver, capitol physician.

Kee had been ill for some time and only recently returned from the nearby Bethesda Naval hospital.

He had been a member of the House since 1933. Kee became chairman of the Foreign Affairs committee in March, 1949, following the death of the late Rep. Sol Bloom (D-N.Y.). Bloom, like Kee, collapsed at a committee meeting. He died several days later.

Kee was born in Glenville, W. Va., on August 22, 1874. He represented West Virginia's Fifth Congressional district and lived at Bluefield in the extreme southern part of the state. He was a lawyer and served in the state Senate from 1923 to 1927.

What a farmer wants from his bank

FARMERS tell us they like these things best about a banking connection:

A place to get financial service . . . a place to find all needed financial facilities under one roof . . . but most of all, a place to get friendly financial advice.

That's the way we try to operate. You're welcome to come in to see us at any time.
